A Message From the Editor

Welcome to our ninth newsletter! First of all, thank you for continuing to support our newsletter. We have so many exciting events we would like to share with you all. Second, I would like to thank our dedicated board members and members who continue to participate and engage with our community. I want to acknowledge that many of our motivated members work full-time jobs, with shifts varying from day to night, clinical roles, or management. But despite any challenging roles we all have, PNAC3 always takes the time to serve and support our community.

Please consider joining PNAC3. We'd love to hear your amazing ideas and insights on how we can improve community welfare. At the end, you will find instructions on how to become a part of PNAC3!

- Kristina Rodriguez, PNAC3 Watch Editor & Recording Secretary

Medical Pathway Connect

On April 2, PNAC3 member Daniel Aquino was invited to serve as a tour guide for a group of approximately 50 local high school students participating in the "Medical Pathway Connect" program, designed to inspire interest in healthcare careers. As part of the experience, the students toured several key areas within the hospital, including the inpatient Dialysis Unit, Neuroscience Unit, Accelerated Access Unit, and the ACC Primary Care Clinic.

Throughout the day, students had the opportunity to engage with professionals across a wide range of roles, including Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Dialysis Technicians, Hospital Unit Service Coordinators, Providers, Pharmacists, Human Resources, Volunteer Services, and even a hospital Executive. The goal of the program was to showcase the diversity and impact of healthcare careers and to spark an interest that may one day lead these students to pursue a future in the field, whether at UC Davis Health or beyond.

Ehime Exchange

On March 5, UC Davis Health had the privilege of hosting four nursing students and a faculty member from Ehime University in Matsuyama, Japan, as part of an educational exchange aimed at exploring the differences between healthcare systems in the United States and Japan.

The visit was made possible through the collaborative efforts of multiple hospital units and leaders, coordinated by a dedicated staff member committed to showcasing both the grit and glamour of UC Davis Health. The guests toured several key departments, including Pediatrics, the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit (PICU), the Emergency Department (ED), and the Operating Rooms (OR). During their visit, they were welcomed by nursing students from various local schools and had the opportunity to meet professionals from Child Life Services, Hospital Unit Service Coordinators (HUSCs), Environmental Services (EVS), Food & Nutrition Services, clinical providers, and many others who play essential roles in delivering high-quality patient care.

Notable highlights from the day included a tour of the newly opened Panda Cares space for pediatric patients and an intense, firsthand look at UC Davis Health's Level 1 trauma center in action, where they observed three resuscitation cases in rapid succession. In the OR, the group witnessed complex procedures including a head and neck dissection, a free flap surgery, and a bypass graft.

After a high-energy morning, the visitors enjoyed lunch before going to the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis, where they participated in a poverty simulation and small-group debriefs with Master's Entry Program in Nursing (MEPN) students.

The experience was deeply meaningful for all involved, offering a rich exchange of knowledge and perspectives. For Daniel Aquino who facilitated this event and led the tour, the day served as a powerful reminder of the scope and impact of nursing and healthcare—reigniting a sense of pride and appreciation for the work done across the organization.

Special thanks were extended to California State University–Sacramento School of Nursing for reaching out to the Center for Professional Practice of Nursing to make this tour possible with Ehime University. Hopefully, this leads to a future exchange with nursing students from the Philippines!

PNAC3 Joins Sierra Donor Services for Remembrance Day Ceremony

On a meaningful spring day at Kaiser Permanente South Sacramento Medical Center, Philippine Nurses Association of California Capital City Chapter (PNAC3) members joined Sierra Donor Services for a heartfelt Remembrance Day Ceremony in honor of Donate Life Month.

The ceremony united a diverse group of individuals by one powerful cause: honoring organ and tissue donors, their families, and the recipients whose lives have been forever changed. Attendees heard deeply moving and inspiring stories shared by donor families, recipients, healthcare professionals, and donor ambassadors, each a testament to the power of compassion, courage, and the gift of life.

The event served as a remembrance and a call to action, encouraging continued advocacy and awareness of organ and tissue donation. The flags were waved in honor of Donate Life Month, and the ceremony concluded with a moment of reflection, celebrating the legacy of donors who have made an everlasting impact.

As an organization committed to health promotion and community engagement, PNAC3 proudly stands in solidarity with our donor families. We reaffirm our support for organ donation awareness and continue to advocate for conversations that save lives.

Sacramento Filipino Fiesta

On June 1, PNAC3 had an opportunity to participate in the Sacramento Filipino Fiesta. The annual Filipino Fiesta celebration included PNAC3 assisting in the first aid booth in collaboration with America West Ambulance. It was held in the Jose Rizal Community Park Center in Sacramento. Blood pressure machines, educational pamphlets, and CPR education were provided.

PNAC3 Supports Future Nurses at UC Davis SHINES Program

The Philippine Nurses Association of California Capital City (PNAC3) was honored to participate once again in the Summer Health Institute for Nursing Exploration and Success (SHINES) program, hosted at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at the University of California, Davis.

SHINES is an annual, two-week-long summer program designed to introduce high school and college students—especially those from historically underrepresented and underserved communities—to the nursing profession. Through workshops, hands-on simulation activities, and mentorship opportunities, the program aims to spark interest in nursing careers and support participants in navigating their academic and professional pathways. During this year's program, PNAC3 members had the privilege of meeting and encouraging these future nurses and their families. Our participation reflects our ongoing commitment to nurturing the next generation of nurses, advancing diversity in the profession, and giving back to the community.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to UC Davis and the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing for inviting PNAC3 to participate in this inspiring initiative. Special thanks to our dedicated PNAC3 Executive Board and members—Gladys Sumo, Sal Mislant, Jerry Bambao, Dr. Sandy Phan, Krista Greaves, and Dr. Denise Prudencio—for representing our organization with enthusiasm and professionalism.

The day was also enriched by meaningful connections with fellow nursing organizations, including the Hmong Nurses Association, Inc., and the Sacramento chapter of the National Association of Hispanic Nurses (NAHN). Together, we celebrate and champion a diverse, inclusive, and empowered future nursing workforce.

Motown Magic at PNAA's Networking Night

The vibrant energy of Motown met the spirit of Filipino excellence at this year's PNAA Networking Night, where nurses from across the country came together in celebration, connection, and community. Held during the annual national convention, the Motown-themed event was more than just a lively night of music and dancing—it was a joyful reminder of our collective progress and the powerful legacy we continue to build.

Amid the dazzling retro fashion and soulful sounds, I, together with our Chapter President Jojo Melendres and ILDP Director, Jet Zabala, was honored to represent our young but thriving chapter, the Philippine Nurses Association of California – Capital City Chapter (PNAC3), established in 2022. Though still new to the PNAA family, PNAC3 has already made its mark through passionate commitment to professional development, leadership, and community service.

What made the evening even more meaningful was the recognition our chapter received—the Rising Star and Radiant Start Awards. This recognition reflects the collective hard work, resilience, and vision of our dedicated members.

Networking Night continues to be one of the most memorable highlights of the PNAA convention—not only for the fun and fellowship, but for how it uplifts and honors the work we all do every day.

- Dr. Denise Angelo Prudencio, DNP, RN, NEA-BC, NPD-BC, PCCN, CGNC, FFMRC SI
